

Things you should talk to your Veterinarian about when your Sheltie has it's first exam

We are very fortunate to live in a dry & warm area with low humidity and no standing water. Due to this we do not have a problem with fleas, ticks or mosquitos.

Do to this we DO NOT treat our Shelties with any flea or tick treatments. There are many treatments out there and this should be discussed with your veterinarian! Remember - NEVER give a Sheltie or a Collie a flea medication that contains IVERMECTIN as it can cause death in a Sheltie or Collie!

As we do not have mosquitos we also do not give our Shelties any Heart worm medications. There are several out there (including some that have been recalled by the FDA), and this is a serious matter to discuss with your veterinarian!

Worms and other intestinal parasites are everywhere!
While at our kennel, puppies are treated every two weeks with a very safe wormer called "Nemex 2", a name brand for Pyrantel Pamoate (adults are treated once a month). Once again, this is something to talk over with your veterinarian as they may prefer another product for your area or by choice of your veterinarian.

Remember - your veterinarian (like your personal doctor) should be someone that you have complete confidence in. I can tell you that once you find the perfect veterinarian and have trust in him/her you will continue to go to that veterinarians office!

PLEASE REMEMBER - WE ARE NOT VETERINARIANS! - these are suggestions only!
